Additional conditions resulting from the current epidemiological situation
1. All lectures will be held remotely via online platforms until further notice.
2. Practical training will take place in a combined form, in the form of seminars in the hospital training rooms and the inpatient part of the clinic at the necessary time. Until further notice, rotation mode of teaching will be implemented in a condensed content.
3. Thorough registration of students in teaching will be required. Students requiring quarantine due to the presence or suspicion of COVID-19 will be excused from the teaching process.
4. The control of students' results will be realized electronically (MOODLE) and will be registered into AIS (according to the given epidemiological situation).
